The temperature may have plummeted but that doesn't mean we have to turn into bears and hibernate. There are plenty of ways to transform a frosty back yard into a winter wonderland. We can't go past a fireplace or fire pit for conjuring a little ambiance. You can also keep cosy with a basket of throw rugs on hand, a plush rug underfoot and an outdoor sofa laden with plump cushions. Lanterns, candles or a string of fairy lights will help entice people outdoors as the sun sets early. And don't forget something warm to wrap your hands around (we're thinking mulled wine or a hot toddy). ☺
